Headline:
Scattered showers on Thursday, windy in the north.

Today:
Bright with a mixture of sunny intervals, and occasional showers, these more frequent in the Northwest Highlands where it will be a mainly cloudy morning. More sunshine later. Moderate to fresh westerly winds, strong in the north. Less mild. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers becoming isolated this evening with some good clear spells for a time, winds easing. Cloud increasing overnight, perhaps bringing a few spots of rain. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
A cloudy start in places but brightening up, with some good sunny spells the best of these in East Highland and the Great Glen. The Hebrides becoming windy, evening rain. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
It will be a fine settled spell of weather over the weekend and into the start of next week with good spells of sunshine. Perhaps some light showers over Isles.
